cantaremos

Te llamas Rosa y yo Esperanza;
pero tu nombre olvidarás,
porque seremos una danza en la colina más...

Flower Hopscotch

The game is created for patients who prefer to engage in physical activities as they wait to be called

Poetry Jenga

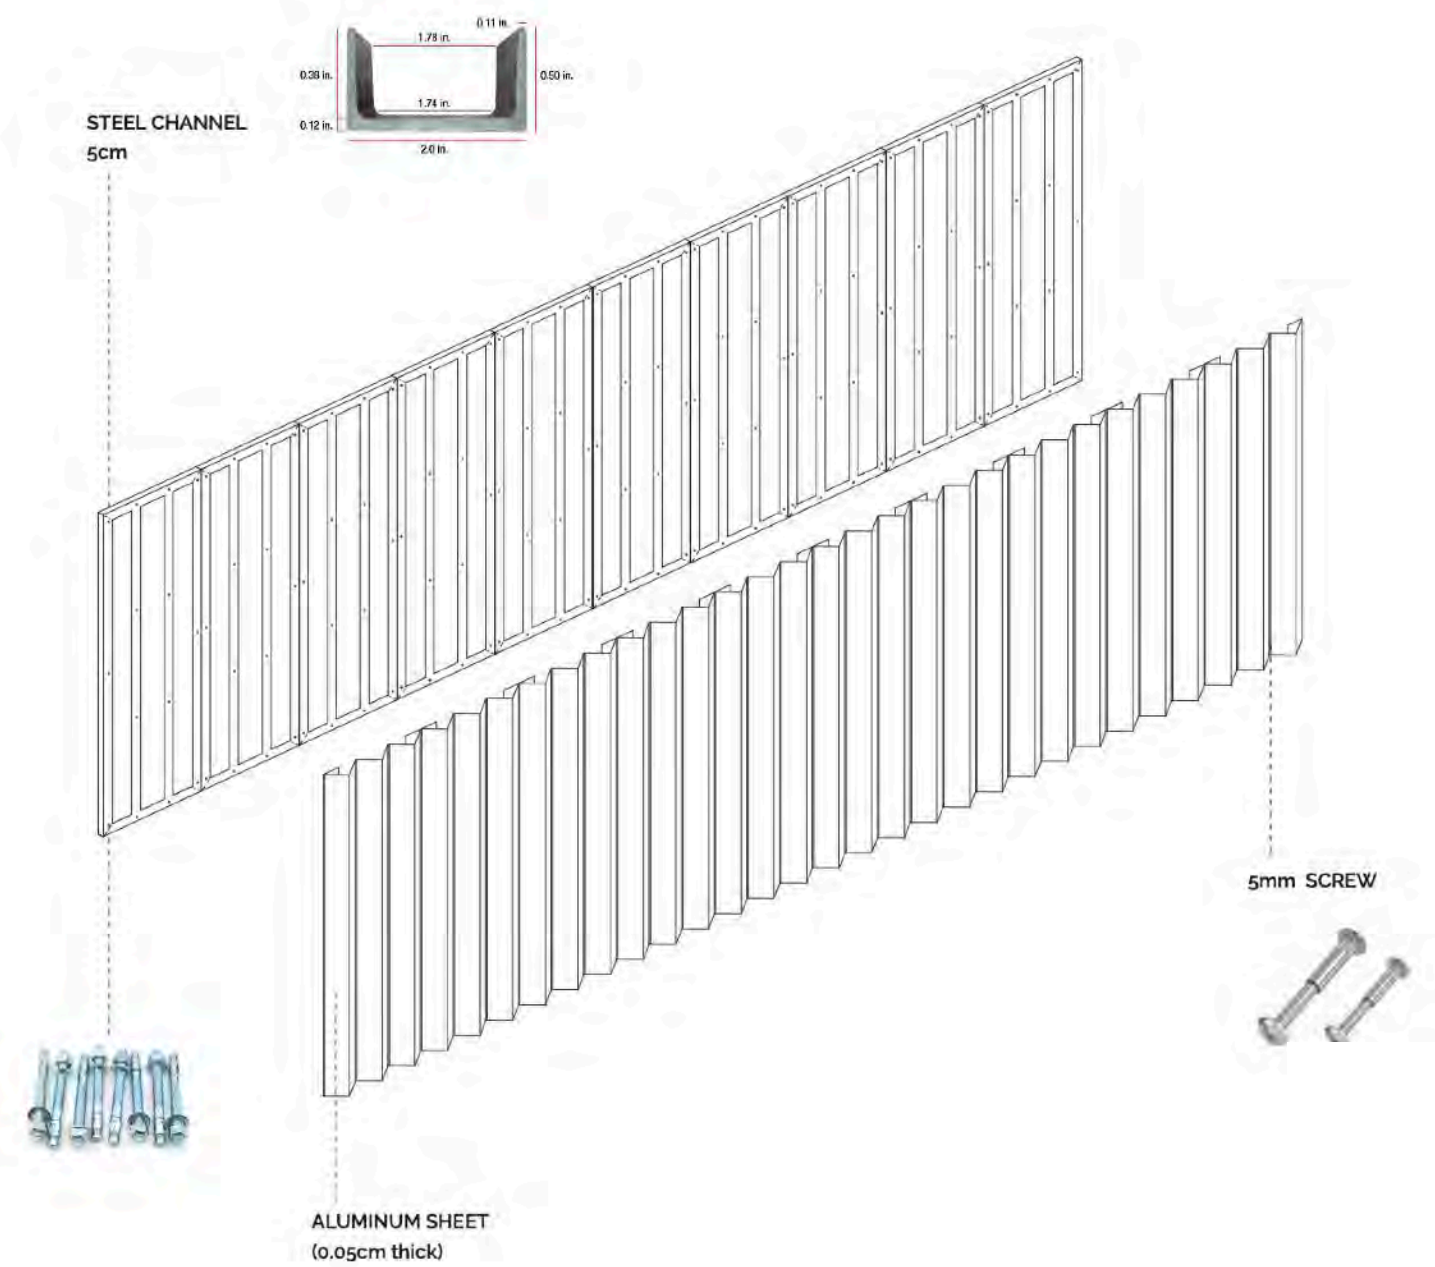

Inspired by Chilean poem "Give Me Your Hand" by Gabriel Mistral, we've redesigned a game of Jenga to reduce patient's anxiety.

Welcome Wall

An outdoor interactive wall that will greet patients as they come and leave Coaniquem. The wall shows each character from the Healing Tree story.

Modular structure made with recyclable aluminum sheets for easy installation. We utilize the area in front of the mural to grow Pink Muhly.

Pathway Solar Shading

A main pathway that connects all the main buildings are made to bring the whole community together.

Using local crafts as our inspiration, we've designed the woven shading structure with fabric weaving and solar panels on top.

Weaving the traditions and future.

Juice Bar

A juice bar is connecting Coaniquem Campus and the whole village. Coming out from the campus, young patients and parents could enjoy a juice with peacock seating.

Accessible Community Garden

Teaching the kids about sustainable practices. A garden for seniors to tend, walk, paint, etc. The community garden is a place for everyone.

The Nest

The nest is a central pavilion as gathering point, connecting church, school, senior center, and cafeteria.

Pavilion Shading

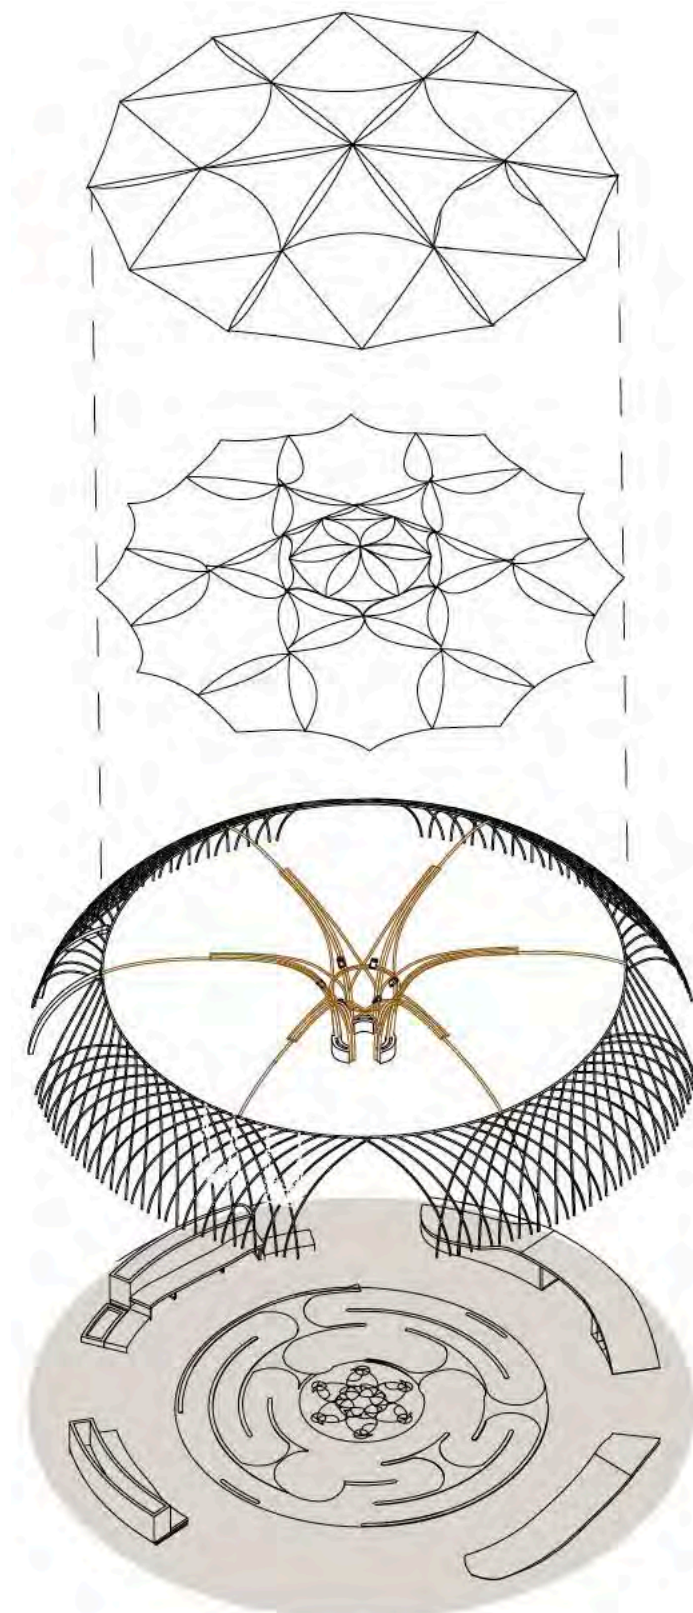

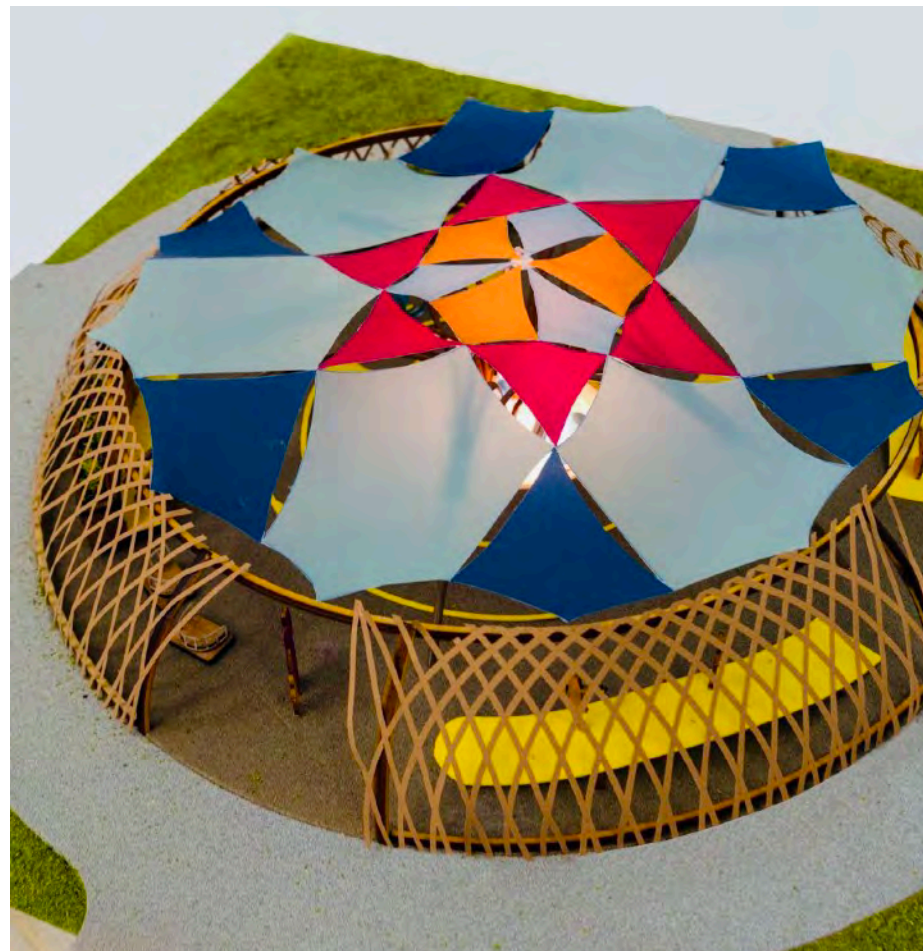

With double layered fabric shading, burned children won't need to worry about the sunlight. The pavilion have a labirinth to play and dance.

“When you have grown to become strong enough like a tree, you now could let the birds come and build their nests.”

— Maria Bori, Director of Coaniquem Casabierta
